THE 28-DAY RESET CHALLENGE

Stop working around the stiffness. Start working on it.

Get personalized stretching routines focused on where you feel tight, so you can spend 15 minutes a day on what's actually bothering you instead of adjusting around it.

[JOIN THE 28-DAY RESET]

28 days · 15 minutes a day · Starts October 19

Maybe you've started working around it without realizing it.

Your neck bothers you after sleeping funny. Your back feels stiff when you stand up. You do a little more than usual and somehow you're sore.

Maybe you still do everything you want to do. Or maybe you've started moving differently, thinking twice about certain things or doing a little less because you know you'll feel it later.

What if there were simply less to work around?

Less stiffness when you get up. Less soreness after doing something ordinary. Less adjusting around whatever happens to be bothering you.

Give your body 15 minutes a day for 28 days and see how much better it can feel.

1. Tell WeStretch what feels tight.

Get a personalized routine focused on what's bothering you.

2. Stretch for 15 minutes a day.

Follow your personalized routine for just 15 minutes a day.

3. Stay consistent.

Keep showing up for weekly prize chances and two grand prizes.

Starts October 19 · Ends November 15

The difference is sticking with it.

It's easy to stretch when something bothers you and stop when it feels better.

The Reset gives you 28 days to see what happens when you keep going.

See what feels different after 28 days.

Maybe you feel less stiff getting up. The spot that always seems to bother you bothers you less. Things you've been adjusting around start feeling easier again.

You don't need to wait until it gets worse. You can just want your body to feel better.

Questions before you join?

What if I'm really stiff or haven't stretched in a long time?

That's completely fine. You don't need to be flexible or already have a stretching habit to join. The challenge is simply about spending a little time each day helping your body feel and move better.

Do I have to do all 15 minutes at once?

No. You can spread your stretching throughout the day. Do a few stretches when you have time and finish the rest later. What matters is making those 15 minutes part of your day.

Do I have to do all 28 days?

The goal is to give your body 15 minutes a day for 28 days and see what changes. But if you miss a day, just get back to it the next day. The point is consistency, not perfection.

What if a different area starts bothering me?

That's okay. Your stretching is personalized, so it can change with you. If your neck is bothering you today and your hips feel tight tomorrow, WeStretch can adjust what you're working on.

Are there prizes?

Yes. You'll have a chance to win prizes each week for participating, plus the chance to win one of two grand prizes at the end of the challenge.

When does the challenge start?

The 28-Day Reset starts October 19 and runs through November 15. Everyone does the challenge over the same four weeks.

How do I join?
